"People get ready, there's a train comin'.
Don't need no ticket, you just get on board."
Unknown

This volume is dedicated to the twenty-four persons who have made this class possible, in the fervant hope that through knowledge of the individual comes understanding of the whole — that we are bound to a common destiny if not common goals — that no man is an island, apart from the rest.

A picture is worth a thousand words.

It's a bird
It's a plane
It's supernurse !

The apathy came and was unnoticed, festered and killed;
And the citizens of the land could no longer see their great wasted potential.
Even now, many choose the seething congestion of quiescence.

Is the knowledge to be ours that which makes man what he is? Can we unlock the door that hides the sickness that we planted and daily foster with our deeds? Better the seed fall not on ground made fertile with our indifference.

The wires enable us to communicate. Our lives they coordinate - They bring us ever so near...

But we have yet to hear.

I got it on my hands again!

Sure is a fine looking whatchamacallit, Mr. J.

So that's what it is all about!

Storm troopers

What do you mean you don't know how to do a digital?

Hark! The way was filled with pilgrims to the shrine of opulence and ease.
The tracks of valor abound with growths of undisturbed grass.

AlbertEdward Beaty Jr.

"The days fly like ashes on a breeze and I am reminded that all less than benevolence is asininity."

Kahlil Gibran

Patricia F. Conboy

"He who knows nothing, loves nothing.
He who can do nothing understands nothing.
He who understands nothing is worthless.
But he who understands also loves, notices, sees...
The more knowledge is inherent in a thing, the greater the love... Anyone who imagines that all fruits ripen at the same time as the strawberries knows nothing about grapes."

Linda Connolly

"As a knot appears unexpectedly in a thread, so disappointment blocks the smoothness of life.
If a few deft strokes can untangle the skein, life continues evenly; but if it cannot be corrected, then it must be quietly woven into the design. Thus the finished piece can still be beautiful - though not as perfect as planned."

it were our last,
Give of ourselves 'till there's no more to give,
And love for today...
For who knows what tomorrow holds?"
"Cee"

"I am only one, but still I am one;
I cannot do everything, but still I can do something; and because I cannot do everything I will not refuse to do something that I can do."

Come board the mighty mariner and take heart that the tracks of the sea are punctuated with pleasant harbors and coves where ye may be refreshed with the legacies and virtues of all time-and rest awhile to once again taunt the wind at your brow.

...and waste and solitary places;
...here we taste the pleasures of believing what we see is boundless, as we wish our souls to be."
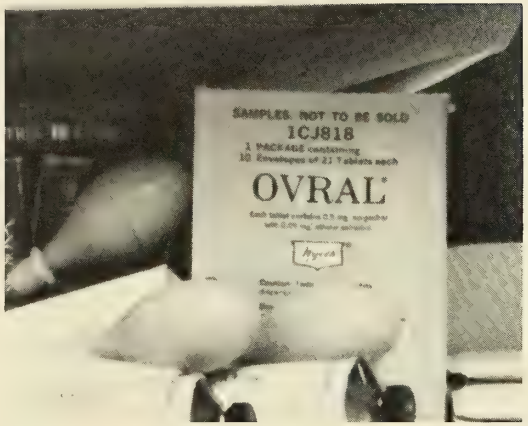
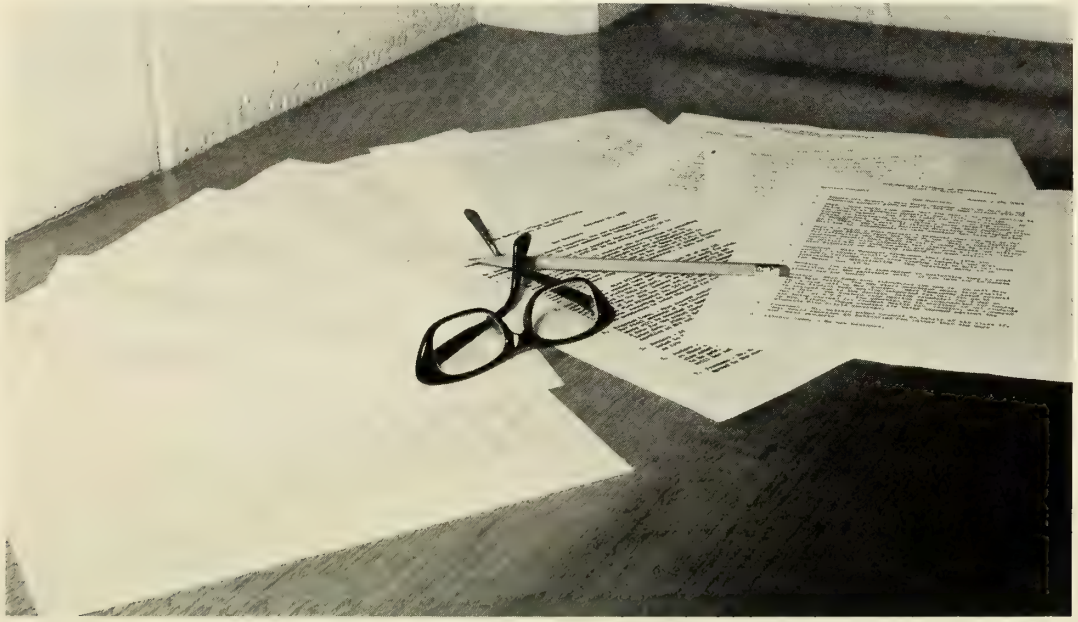
Julian and Maddalo

The only purpose for which power can be rightfully exercised over any person in a community. . .





. . . is to prevent harm from others.

. . . Over himself, over his own body and mind,

. . . the individual is sovereign.
John Stuart Mill

Come back again, Mr. Z.

Dial a D&C?

How about a quick symphony, sugar?

Says here lead poisoning can lead to lethargy, sluggishness, somnolence...

Smile Betty. I know, believe me!

Walk A Mile in My Shoes

I am the poor, the sick, the downtrodden, the whore, the pervert, the sinner,
the criminal, junkie, the unwed mother.
I am the lowest, the highest, the average,
the taxer, the taxed, the oppressed.
I am black, white, red, yellow, brown.
I am the left, the right, and the middle.
I am happy, sad, insane, apathetic.
I sing, cry, laugh, despair and hope.

I am mankind, and womankind.

I am the nectar of the gods.
I enhance fellowship and quicken the spirit of good will.
I am the blood of Christ
to complement thy host.
I take part in most of thy earthly celebrations, and take honorable mention in thy scriptures.

I am liquid anesthetic wasting precious time and health
on Vine Street,
the Bowery,
the Barbary Coast.
The shells of men
once proud abound on the streets of the towns
And my master in Hell Delights and awaits their souls and those of men who did nothing in their plight.

LINDEN

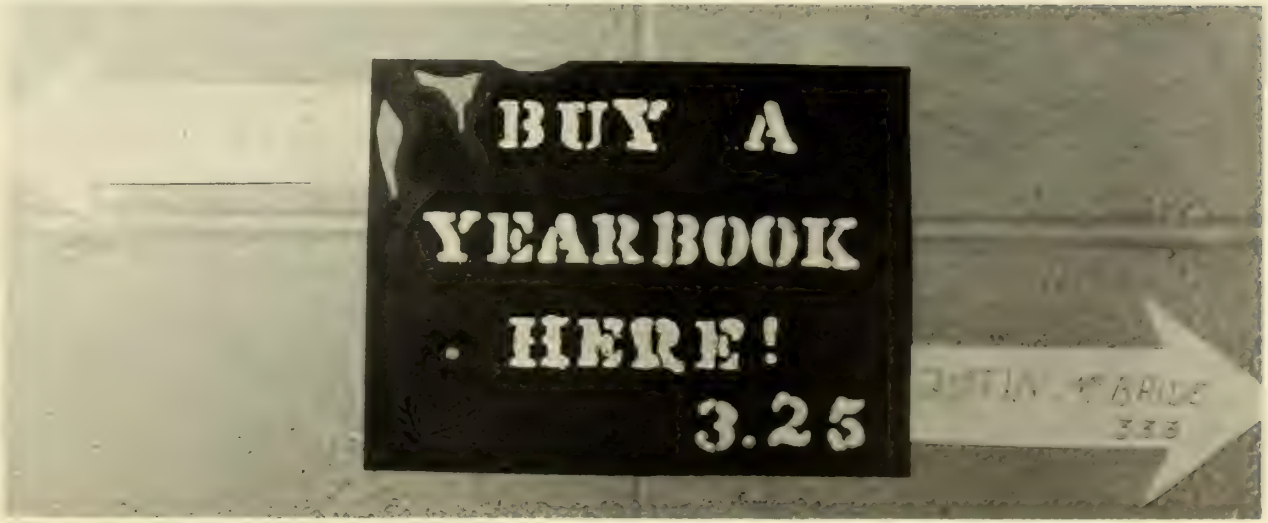
The quiet clutter of man's dreams rest dormant till the spring of hope germinates the seed of dreams into realization and purpose.

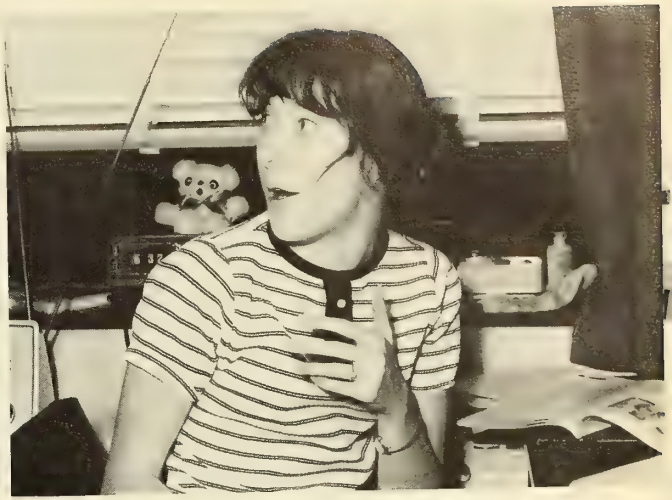
And then I passed out...

I dreamt I was eating a Reese's peanut butter cup in my Maidenform bra.

Ask Ellen. I'm sure she has one.



I then performed a midline hysterotomy on the guppy...



And then he...

Man on the floor.

The grandeur of the mind echoes with the magic of imagination, and the peace found by companionship with the self.

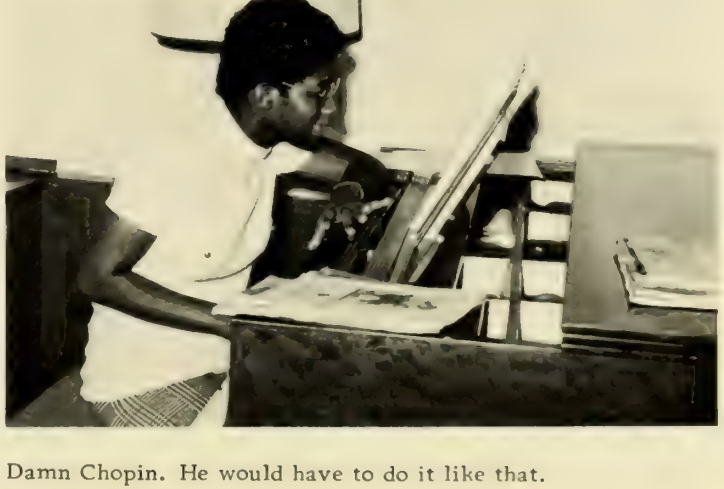
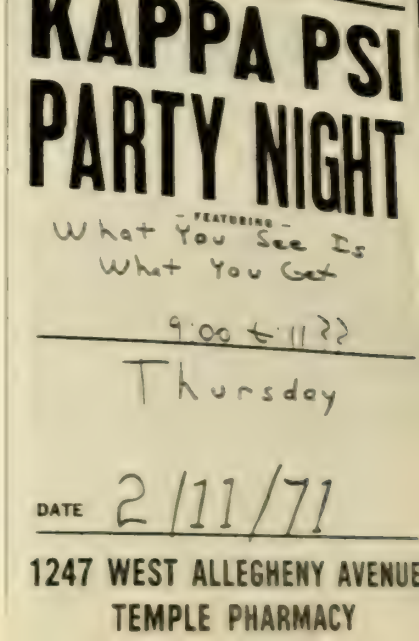
Don't look now.

If I can just keep it down 'till I get to the bathroom.



Damn Chopin. He would have to do it like that.

Well, here I go again.



Above all else we must hold fast to dreams;
For if dreams die,
Life is like a broken winged bird that can never fly.

Pity me not because the light of day
At close of day no longer walks the sky;
Pity me not for beauties passed away
From field and thicket as the year goes by;
Pity me not the waning of the moon,
Nor that the ebbing tide goes out to sea,
Nor that a man's desire is hushed so soon
And you no longer look with love on me.
